

WHAT'S THE BIG DEAL ABOUT BEING A SENIOR?

Being a Senior this year, as just about every year, means that you work harder than you ever expected. You have a tradition to follow of going on a Carribbean cruise. Now, that's a BIG DEAL!!! The finances required to set sail on the Festivale staggers the imagination when Miss Paula first explains the cost.

In order to raise this amount of money, Seniors must do many varied projects. The first of a long list of projects is the selling of doughnuts. (And more doughnuts, and more doughnuts!!!) Then throughout the year we sell fruit, raffle tickets for a gun, magazine subscriptions, wrapping paper, etc. We also sponsor the powderpuff game, raffle many, many cakes, hold a "Big Buck Rodeo", and sponsor a booth at the Harvest Carnival . . . and whatever else it takes to get on that ship!!! (This is in addition to the many hours of study and hard work that goes into just graduating!)
