

Sixth Grade

Bobby Collins
Kris Fogle
Nicolas Godley
Perry Malphrus
Jessica Nipper

Jessica Overlock
Jacob Smith
Jay Toole
Lee Waltz
Eddie Whisenhunt

Everyone in the sixth grade has their own opinion about moving to high school. Some are glad they have another year as the "big kids" on grammar school end.

Nicholas Godley likes being in sixth grade because no one pushes him around. Perry Malphrus stated, "I like being the big kids on grammar school end because everyone looks up to us."

Jay Toole and Jacob Smith like the thought of getting to change classes. Lee Waltz is already looking forward to playing football next year. Bobby Collins can't wait for next year so he can play basketball at recess. Eddie Whisenhunt likes the thought of getting to change classes. Jessica Nipper said, "I hope there is not as much homework." Kris Fogle just likes the thought of being in high school. Jessica Overlock also likes the idea of changing classes.

Sloppy-Tacky Day during Spirit Week was a lot of fun for sixth graders Eddie Whisenhunt, Jay Toole, Jessica Overlock and Jessica Nipper.