Class of 2002

Seniors

The Graduating Class of 2002 is an energetic group made up of four guys and four girls. Out of the eight, only one, Russ Kinard, has attended Andrew Jackson since kindergarten. Everyone has a unique quality about them. For example, Al is the class clown while Brandy is the one most likely to succeed. Brad and Shannon are the best dressers but Kyle is just happy to get dressed and make it to school on time. Tiffany is the most gullible and Amanda takes the biggest flirt award. To round out the class, Russ, hands down, is the most athletic by playing football, basketball, and baseball. When asked what was their favorite subject, the seniors all replied "Literature." They all agreed that their best class memory of the 2001-2002 school year would have to be fruit day. The funniest thing that has happened all year was when Brad and Al broke Ms. Calloway's door window. When all the fun and games are over some of them plan to go to college and start the next phase of their life. Others are not sure what they want to do after graduating but realize there isn't much time left to figure it out. Watch out world, because the Class of 2002 is headed your way.
