We, the members of the 1959 Annual Staff, affectionately dedicate this, the fourth volume of the Crossroads, to Mrs. R. M. Hightower and Mrs. J. H. Peters, who have helped us carry along the weight of big responsibilities which has lightened the load for us students.

We would like to express our ardent appreciation for them both - for their sweetness - sense of humor - deep understanding - willingness to help at all times - ability to cope with those perpetual permissions - and to solve many of our big problems.

Graduation Awaited With Anticipation

Senior Year! The year of work, fun, sadness, farewells, anticipation, exams, shining eyes and a sense of getting the job done at last. We began this year with all these things in mind.

Our first major job was a sale of magazines in cooperation with the Junior Class. By working hard and by the help of many friends we sold some for a small profit. Grace Peters and Jane Thomas worked very hard. There were others who passed the 25 dollar mark and received citations from the publishing company.

It was a Senior girl who first suggested a Homecoming Day for Bells. Plans were made by the faculty and things began to roll. The Senior Class sold barbecue at this time. There was some profit here to add to the Senior treasury. Above all, this was a new step for our school.

Candy? Did you taste it? It came high in cost and calories but gee! it was good. Yes - and a little profit here. Most of the money went back to the candy company, however. It was yummy!

The Juniors sponsored the annual Harvest Carnival. Here we were again! More barbecue, cakes and pies! Delicious - Uh! Huh! Yes, a little more profit. Our committees, both boys and girls, worked very hard. Both Junior and Senior classes were rewarded for their efforts.

Christmas rolled around. The Seniors sponsored the Miss Bells High Contest. Girls, dresses, decorations. We won't forget it. Thanks for the dollars!

Senior Follies! Most rewarding work of all.

Senior Superlatives! Elsewhere in the Annual you have found out the results on that. Though we had to choose we are just conceited enough to think that, as a group, we are superlative.

High school rings and pins! All who received them were thrilled. Books, tests, exams and grades were all forgotten for awhile. Most of us grew two inches taller after we put them on. Paul forgot to laugh!

Invitation Day arrived. Just to think about the graduation date was fun but, when we got the invitations, there it all was in black and white. It was, of course, a thrill to address them all. Many of us traded cards and pasted invitations in scrapbooks for the future.

Annals! Here we saw ourselves pictured as Seniors. We realized clearly once again that this really was our Senior Year. Ann and Ginger were very happy.

Our last Junior-Senior at Bells as students, anyway! Thanks to the Junior class and the sponsors who made this one possible for us. The minutes were all too short. So soon, like Cinderella, we had to leave the fun and glamour and come back to the last grind.

Graduation! Proud moms and pops! For some - proud husbands. Class Day exercises! Unless you lived with us those last few days, you can't know of the anxiety and tension that finally gave way to sighs of relief and a sense of being on top of the world. Ask Mrs. Hightower, Mrs. Peters, and Mr. Roberts who lived with us and answered our questions.

May 31, 1959 - So soon? A look at the calendar proves it. 180 days - Around the School in 180 Days.
1959 - We are yours -

Added Color

The 1959 "Crossroads" Staff has tried very hard to make this the very best yearbook possible. There has been a lot of strife and strain, but we are proud of our success.

To our faculty, who have unfailingly and untiringly worked for our benefit, we offer our sincere appreciation and hope that we have justified the long hours and disappointments.

Seventh graders, Eighth graders, Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors - noisily opened and closed locker doors - raced two steps at a time to class - walked sedately to the lunchroom - counted last pennies to pay for invitations, annual, dues - surprised by the voice of the new "inter-com" system - exams, exams, EXAMS!! "Around the School in 180 Days."

We truly hope we have taken you Around Our School in 180 Days through pictures and words.

This year the "Green and Gold Review" added another rung to the ladder of high criteria which it has tried to maintain. It has grown in size and content while it has continued to improve.

The "Green and Gold Review" staff, with the help of class and club reporters, published a mimeographed paper once every six weeks.

The "Green and Gold Review" has been the "voice of the students". It has encouraged originality, independent thinking, creative writing and freedom on the part of the student body to express their ideas and opinions on matters concerning our school.

We have not been members of the South Carolina Press Association yet, but we have planned for that next year; thus, adding another rung to our ladder.

The band was organized in 1956. No one knew what it meant to play in a band though many of us had dreamed about it.

You should have heard us. Even to blow one note was an effort. Improvement came but oh! so slowly. We surely had a lot to learn.

During the next two years some members graduated. Others dropped out. In the 1958-59 school year, we have had 32 members and have made fifteen appearances.

Last summer there were six who attended the Band Clinic at Clemson College. While there they learned a number of things but most of all they learned to march.

During the year the band members have practiced marching. Again we have made steady improvement.

We were proud to say we had learned three hundred pieces of music.

Looking forward to the next school year is more pleasant because of our band and its director.

Thank You For Your Support

This year the annual staff has worked hard to produce this yearbook. It has been our pleasure and pride in making this "Crossroads" yearbook possible.

We cherish the traditions and ideals of our school and we hope that through the pages of this book that you, the readers, will gain an appreciation of what Bells High School means to us.

Our theme was "Around the School in 180 Days." We wish to express our appreciation to those who cooperated by giving of their time to enable us to get all the necessary pictures. Without your time and the generous gifts of money through your ads this annual could not have been printed.

We also wish to thank our faculty for graciously submitting to necessary class interruptions; our student body for its interest and encouragement; and our Advisor, Mrs. H. A. Roberts, for her patience and supervision.

To Mr. Jack Padgett and his employees, and to Keys Printing Company and their Mr. Ralph R. Shelley, we express our sincere thanks and ardent appreciation.

We sincerely hope that everyone enjoys their trip "Around the School in 180 Days" through the 1959 "Crossroads."
