

English

Communication is a necessity. In our English department students are encouraged to learn correct grammar, to enlarge their vocabularies, to appreciate the writings of others, to spell correctly, and to try creative writing of their own. By offering four years of English with all that it includes, we hope to have enough opportunities for each student to learn better communication and to get an understanding of the language we speak.

