

It is often said that history repeats itself. The social studies department reveals the past to help students understand the present and prepare for the future. There are three phases of this department -- United States History, world history, and government. All of these give the student appreciation of our heritage, knowledge of our governmental principles, and interest in current events.

Social Studies