

8th Graders Speak Out On

"America is a free country and if you want to pray I think you should be allowed to. But I don't think anyone should be forced to or expected to." Beth Hiott

"I think that taking prayer out of the schools is like taking 'In God We Trust' off of the coins." Karen Pruett

"Prayer should definitely be in the public schools because children are tomorrow's future. If adults don't teach them right things, the future will be a terrible thing." Mickie Turner

"They shouldn't take prayer out because people should pray and have something to do with God." Joey Mangum
