

With the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" in the air, the Senior Class of '81 went through the graduating ceremonies, concluding their twelve years of instruction. Valedictorian Wanda Ulmer and Salutatorian Kevin Preveaux were honored for their academic achievement. John Register was honored for being the first student to complete school here from primer through twelfth grade. The Senior Class gave CCS an alabaster eagle and a plaque with their names inscribed on it. The Seniors received their diplomas; however, they realized that this ceremony not only ended a segment of their lives, but brought them to the challenge of a new beginning.
