

. . . That priceless gift, the mind, must be nurtured through instruction, frequent study, reading and attention to detail.

