

COLONEL J. F. RISHER

For most of this year a familiar and beloved personality, Colonel James F. Risher, was missing from our campus. Illness necessitated his being confined to his home in Bamberg for most of the year.

His philosophy, his zest for life, and his stories involving human nature are heart-warming to the cadets. His many and various experiences in life—especially those involving the education of young people—are well-springs of knowledge from which he draws his stories.

We sincerely hope that his recovery is speedy and complete so that we may once again benefit from hearing his little glimpses of life. We, the cadet corps, send our prayers and our best wishes to you, Colonel Risher, and say, "Hurry back, we miss you."
