

LT. COLONEL CHARLES R. WHITE
Assistant Headmaster

When a cadet is unhappy, the source of this unhappiness can usually be traced to one or both of two areas—grades and conduct. My advice to the young man is to get busy, to put a tremendous amount of effort into his school work. After all, this is an educational institution and that's why all of us are here. When most of his time is used in studying, his grades are going to improve and there will be little time left for him to get involved in misconduct. Therefore, work is the antidote to both problems as it so often is to even larger problems in life.

Shakespeare has said:

*"This above all: to thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."*

My advice then is: Be honest with yourself. Get busy. Do what your present occupation is—study!

The worthwhile things in life are achieved only through hard work and self-sacrifice. The self discipline you have gained at Camden Military Academy will permit you to reach high goals that you have set for yourself. I congratulate each of you for the outstanding job you have done all year and wish for each of you success in your future endeavors.

*"Our God and soldier we alike adore
When at the brink of ruin, not before;
After deliverance both alike required
Our God forgotten, and our soldiers slighted."*

—RUDYARD KIPLING.
