

I. G. Inspection

Each Spring Camden Military Academy is inspected by a team of Army officers to determine the school's status as an ROTC school. The cadet corps and military department spend weeks preparing for the day-long inspection.

As a result of previous inspections CMA is designated an Honor School with Distinction, the highest honor accorded a military school.

