

Quintessential Qualities

Seniors pick 'em.

Charisma? Yes! Seniors have it. And each stand-out pictured here epitomizes a special quality that his peers deem superlative.

(Clockwise) Above right, Lenny Arrington stands tall, a man for all seasons — Best All Around. From the underbrush emerges Paul Bigness triumphant — maintaining his Most Military bearing. Donald Rhodes, Most Athletic, magnanimously takes time out from play to humor a fan. Most Studious John Justice catches a breather while persuing Einstein's theory of relativity; and as the (book)work turns, John guarantees his future — Most Likely to Succeed. A hero has a thousand faces? Anti-hero "Captain" Negley, Class Clown, triumphs over a fire hydrant. Best Personality? Obviously José Torres, attracting as always a dynamic following. (Center) Macho man Howie Mauldin, Class Casanova, thumbs through the day's stack of letras di amore.
