

Home, James

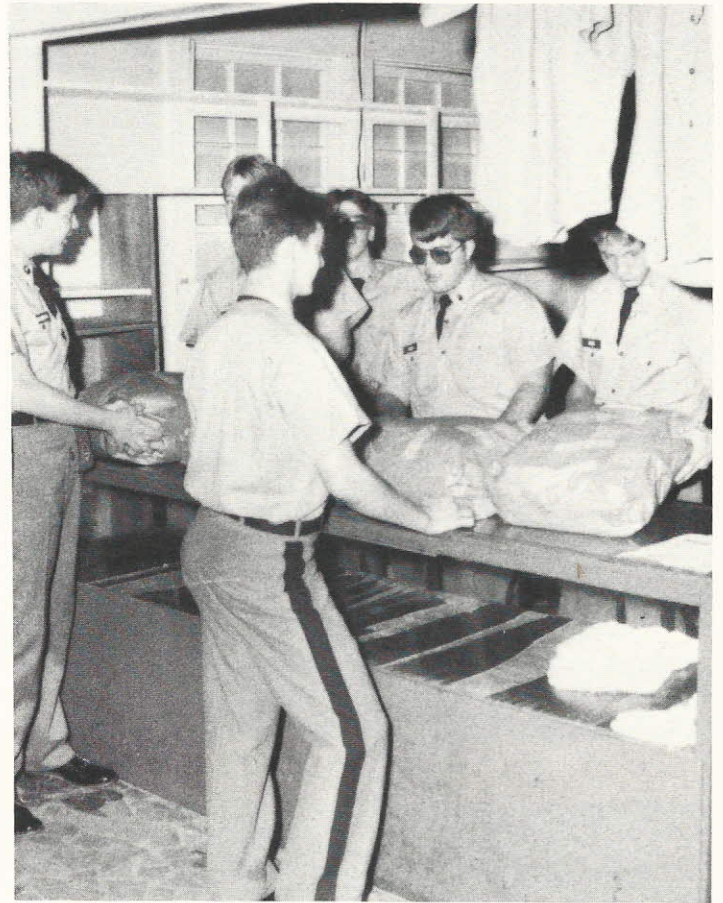

Cadets ride to town, to church, to the airport, to the bus or train station, to games, to the doctor's, in vehicles which a very responsible group of cadet bus drivers operate. They do more than drive, providing as well for the care and maintenance of our vans and buses. Their reward is in merits and in three dollars a week, added to the responsibility and to the privilege of driving.

(From top) Bus drivers Sellers, Justice, Currence, McConnell, Knight, King, Goza, and Suddarth, with Lt Col Eady (Advisor), are ready to roll.

Is it marked?

No body does it better — than Camden's City Laundry. Laundry and dry cleaning come in and go out on a regular Monday and Wednesday schedule thanks to Major Robert Thorp and his dedicated staff, committed to that injunction that cleanliness is indeed right up there with godliness in our hierarchy of needs. Who's number one five nine?

Bessinger and Carnes pick up laundry.

The staff: Tyson, Bessinger, Pace VH Davis, Grainger, Carnes, Major Robert Thorp (Advisor).
