

Latta Baucom is the senior chosen by his peers as Most Likely to Succeed. Considering the success of computers (see caption below), who knows?

Parting is such sweet sorrow, and the void is especially felt as we say adieu to LTC William Beckham who is retiring after 24 years as a dedicated and inspiring CMA faculty member.

Most studious senior, Latta Baucom of Monroe, NC, is "The Brain" of CMA. His consistently high grades and superior classroom performance have earned him not only this accolade, but also promoted the myth that he is prototypical of a new generation of portable computers.
