Vital services to the corps.

What do all these groups pictured above have in common? They all deal with a very large number of impatient cadets. The Supply Room staff keeps the uniforms of the corps looking sharp by insuring that every cadet has the proper accoutrements for his uniform. Timing is an essential criterion for the Cannon Detail as these three cadets fire the retreat cannon that echoes all over campus every evening. The Armory Staff distributes rifles to the corps for drill on weekdays and parades on weekends. In addition, each weapon must be maintained and accounted for by the staff at all times.
