

DEDICATION

The 1987 Excalibur is dedicated to Col. Philip S. Minges, Jr. (USAR, Ret.). Col. Minges is a native of Charleston, South Carolina, and served in the U.S. Army during World War II. He is a graduate of The Citadel and worked for over 30 years as a civil engineer for the DuPont Company here in Camden. He retired from the U. S. Army Reserves with the rank of Colonel.

After his retirement from DuPont, Col. Minges came to CMA as the Director of Development and Alumni Affairs. During his two years at the Academy, Col. Minges organized the Annual Fund drive which has enhanced campus life through additional programs and equipment and improvements to the physical plant. He also organized CMA's Fellowship of Christian Athletes Huddle and served as source of information and assistance for cadets interested in attending The Citadel.

Col. Minges always had time for any cadet who needed the benefit of his wisdom and experience tempered with his youthful and optimistic outlook on life. He is a friend to all who knew him, and, as such, the Class of 1987 designated him an Honorary Camden Military Academy Cadet.

Col. Minges, we thank you for your demonstrated interest and concern for the Corps of Cadets and wish you well in your second retirement.
