

BAND COMPANY

Band Company has come a long way under the leadership of Jonathan Morningstar who is the drum major. Rebuilding the pride and distinction of the band has been no easy task but with the enthusiasm generated by its officers, great progress has been made and continues to be made. If it were not for the band how would the other companies manage to function during dress parades. Band Company not only performs for our corps, but they perform at other functions in the community, as well as the Veterans Day Parade. The entire corps is proud of the everlasting impression it's making on the community; it's this kind of dedication that reflects on us all.
