

Hey, skinhead!

No rattails
or spikes
or whatever you like.

Tonsorial conformity is the word at CMA. The student handbook specifies: "haircuts— Good grooming is mandatory for cadets and haircuts must meet the following specifications: hair must be one quarter inch above the ears, must not touch the collar, and may not touch the eyebrows. No facial hair (beards, moustaches, etc.) is permitted." New boy Joey Mashburn, tenth grader from Statesville, North Carolina, pictured "after" and "before," still sports a very close cut long after his initiate shearing. A valued member of the color guard, Joey is a sharp cadet.
