

CMA's best ever

100 point games with 3-point bombs

A record book season, it was, en route to CMA's first conference championship in the Carolina Athletic Association.

A valiant group of seven players, calling themselves the "Hoosiers," hustled and "fast-broke" their way to a 20-5 season. Conference mark was 10-2, and the Spartans were undefeated at home due in part to the great support of the cadet corps and the whole CMA family throughout the year.

All-Carolina first team selections Lewis Sharp and Ron Landers led the Spartan hoopsters all the way. Both seniors averaged over 20 points a game, and Sharp was state leader in rebounding, Landers, among the state leaders in assists. The combo proved to be the great 1-2 punch that most teams found unstoppable. Sharp's high game of the year was a 35 point explosion in the Spartans' thrashing of Sloan's School. Landers' was a 32 point effort against St. Jude's.

Camden skies exploded with 3-point bombs during the season, thanks to junior Happy Taylor, among the state leaders in 3-point shots, who, several times, killed opposing rallies with his deadly shooting. Taylor played his best ever in a 25 point game against Thomas Sumter.

David "Sky" Price was a clutch performer, a defensive stopper while roaming the baseline. Adjusting during the season, his scoring increased so, that he looks now to rise to Spartan star status next year.

Senior Mike Aaron provided great defense and timeless hustle when CMA needed it most. His 20 point game against Ben Lippen late in the season helped the team clinch the conference.

Center position was platooned by Marty Christensen and Neil "Action" Jackson. Top performers, each played key roles in many victories.

Coach Eric Boland's history making troops brought cheering fans to their feet when they scored 100 points in a game for the first time in CMA annals, then went on to record four such triumphs. The Spartans put Camden athletics squarely back on the winning track.
