

We are many kinds of people with very different economic, social, ethnic, cultural, and religious backgrounds. The mix makes a stimulating and mutually enriching community.

On and off campus, people will be people. Here Gregg Marlatt and JJ Campbell seem to be dangerously on track for both concealed reynard and leaping foxhunter. Actually, they're crouched beside Blue Sky's trompe l'oeil mural, celebrating the heyday of Camden's good life, adjacent to the city post office.
