

Charlie Company

This year, under the leadership of Mike Isom, Michael Balducci, Hutter Ragland and Sam Bryant, along with Tactical Officer LTC Mowe, Charlie Company has made long strides toward success and Honor Company. Commonly known as "Powerhouse," C Company is filled with friendship and a feeling of unity. The cadets work together to achieve their goals and to make C Company the best company on campus. As Brian Coleman says, "C Company is one big family. We all look out for each other." The boys respect their leaders, and everyone is working hard for another chance at Honor Company. According to Randy Nicholas, "C Company has the best leadership on campus."

Although in the past there have been some hard times for C Company, the cadets still go on, pulling together. As a result, morale is high. Skeet Stolte says, "With a little work, we will win Honor Company for sure."

But working hard to achieve an important goal is not the only benefit of living in C Company. As Chip Roberts states it, "I've made a lot of good friends in Charlie Company. The friendships make it the best company on campus."
