

A Chance to Work

There is a lot to do around here and cadets take their share of the burden. The school operates on the premise that we all learn by doing. As we learn we can gradually assume more and more responsibility. Of course, the military provides many of these tasks, but there are other jobs as well that help make life at CMA run more efficiently and smoothly. Driving cadets to and from town, maintaining and supervising the weight room, planning and decorating for the school dances — these are several of the important routine functions that cadets play a major role in. Others include selecting and showing movies for the AV Room, distributing laundry, and supervising several of the activities during the twice-weekly Activity Period.

Bus Drivers: Carlton Walker, Chip Roberts, and Bret Burnikel.

Koonce, Shoemaker, and Stolte wonder how long this torture is going to last during one of the more popular Activity sessions.

Dance Committee: (Front) Vega, Latture, Markolf, Whisenhunt. (Rear) Col. Watson, Spencer, Flanagan, McDaniel, Eader.

Weight Room Staff: Stokes, Eader, Hayes, Markolf.
