CHARGIN' CHARLIE

Although Charlie Company has undergone some changes in command this year, its goals remain the same: to keep up grades, participate in sports, and excel in military competitions. In the words of new Co Cmdr CPT Hudson, "The company runs fairly smoothly now, and we owe a good deal of that to CSM Layne. We're learning to pull with instead of against each other. Our AOC ratings have been good overall. C Company could greatly improve and has the potential to do it."
