

A Company

Once known as "Evil A," A Co now shuns this tag. CPT JC Rush, Company Commander, comments on the company's new direction: "We are like a family. Everybody looks out for everybody else. We work as a team. The officers and NCO's carry out their orders conscientiously. Our new Tac Officer, LTC Chandler, listens to what cadets have to say, and you can count on him to keep his word." CPT Rush also notes that the company now takes more pride in appearance, and they drill in unison. In a recent dress parade, they took second place. Moreover, the barrack is cleaner and quieter. A Company is clearly on the move — and in the right direction.
