

On the Road

On January 16, forty CMA cadets went to Ft. Jackson to participate in ceremonies commemorating Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s birthday. After attending formal services, the cadets had lunch at the NCO Club in the company of Major General William J. Bolt (center), Commander, US Army Training Center and Ft. Jackson, S.C.

As usual, CMA cadets appeared at many different places during the school term. Number one on this years list of destinations was Ft. Jackson, with three visits. LET students also made a trip to the Revolutionary War battle site at Kings Mountain. A local jaunt took 1995's Honor Company to participate in Veterans Day formalities in Camden.

Larkin, Judkins, Key, Newberry, Paparone, Cloudt, and Essey check out a military vehicle at Ft. Jackson.