The Future of the Military

With single-gender military education under attack, Camden Military Academy remains firm in its commitment to the education of young men in an all-male cadet environment. Hundreds of Camden-Carlisle alumni who have achieved prominence and leadership roles in business, industry, and the professions are a testament to the benefits of the Camden experience for many young men. We are proud that our JROTC Unit has been designated "Honor Unit with Distinction" for over twenty years. We will remain devoted to the basic values of honor, duty, and service to family, state, and nation. Military training will continue to be a valuable complement to the classroom, instilling discipline, order, teamwork, and self-respect. It is the ingredient that completes the molding of the whole man.
