

M I L I T A R Y

A Progressive Military

At the Camden Christmas Parade this year, several townspeople were heard to remark that the Camden Military Academy marching units had the edge over the public school participants. "Their line was straight," said one. Military training does make a difference. For over twenty-five years, our JROTC Unit has been designated "Honor Unit with Distinction." Moreover, military training is transferable to business, industry, and the professions, as many generations of successful Camden-Carlisle men attest. It will continue to be a valuable complement to the classroom, instilling discipline, order, teamwork, and self-respect. It is the ingredient that completes the molding of the whole man.

Led by Company Commander Joe Forgeng, A Company, Honor Company of 1997, marches past the reviewing stand during the First Annual Homecoming Parade.