

J V Football

The 1998 JV football season was successful because many young men gained valuable experience in tough competition. The Spartans stopped Christ School six times inside the ten yard line and lost in double overtime to Charlotte Latin, a much bigger school. Offensive leaders were Robert Johnson, JC Bellamy, and Mark Sims. Sparking the defense were Greg Lloyd, John Henson, Anthony Heger, and Calvin Brantley. Award winners were Tim Ross, Most Valuable Defensive Player; Jason Gethers, Most Valuable Offensive Player; and Zack Barber, Most Improved Player. The Jayvees gave total effort every time they took to the field.

Coaches Mitchell and Craft confer as Cader, Rowe, Halpin, and other Spartans watch the action on the field.

Brantley, Ross, and Hinson gang up on Christ School quarterback and slam him on turf.

Vaughn Gibbs pulls in an interception while Zack Barber gets ready to move in to assist.

Chant and Murray lead the Spartans in the old "Green Bay" sweep.

Mark Sims takes off on a long kick return with several Spartans running interference.

Hogan and Cader team up to stop the runner for no gain.

Tim Ross and Jason Gethers converge to trap the opposing back before he can break outside.

Showing his superior speed, Jason Gethers eludes all tacklers and breaks loose on a long run toward the goal line.
