

B Company

Battlin' Bravo

The 1998-1999 school term has been a time of ups and downs for Bravo Company; but whatever the difficulties they have faced, company officers and cadets, with the help of CSM Irtenkauf, tactical officer, have pulled together to overcome obstacles. "In my opinion," says Company Commander Capp Carter, "CSM Irtenkauf is the best tactical officer in this whole battalion."

CPT Carter and 1LT Brundick, executive officer, have worked hard to build a strong chain of command. "A strong chain of command brings stability to the company," says LT Brundick, "and we've got to have that."

Being Honor Company of 1998 keeps Bravo focused on its military objectives, and it does not let up there; but the company also continues to pursue the goals of academic excellence and participation in extracurricular activities. "Grades are beginning to improve," adds CPT Carter, "and there is a high percentage of participation in sports." Bravo wants to excel in all aspects of the CMA experience.
