

Band & Staff Company

A New Look

With a new tactical officer and a new chain of command, Band and Staff Company has a new look this year. The cadets seem to have a revived spirit. "Honor and pride have been restored to the company," 1SGT Nick Bliss commented. "Cadets strive to do their best in both academic and military aspects." A welcome arrival has been new tactical officer MAJ J. Bob Jones. "Major Jones has brought in some great ideas," said CPT Richard Holmes, company commander. "Band and Staff has developed one of the finest chains of command at CMA; and with the cooperation of all cadets in the company, we have an excellent chance at being named Honor Company." CPT Holmes cites leadership and perseverance as the keys to running a successful company.
