

Homecoming Parade

In the reviewing stand were Colonel William K. Orris, Headmaster; Major General Stanhope Spears, Adjutant General of the South Carolina National Guard; Mr. William Hamilton, outgoing president of the Alumni Association; and Mr. Robert Blackwell, incoming president.

On October 16, 1999, Camden Military Academy held its third annual Homecoming Parade. Homecoming events actually began on Friday, with a golf tournament and an evening reception, followed on Saturday with an awards ceremony, a parade, and afternoon football. This year's homecoming celebration inaugurated the Camden-Carlisle Alumni Association Awards Program. Eight distinguished alumni were given one of three awards to be presented annually to outstanding alumni. Each individual award is a heavy bronze medallion; in addition, each recipient's name is inscribed on a brass plaque on a Wall of Honor in the Administration Building.

A prime mover in the establishment of Homecoming as an important annual event has been Mr. William Hamilton, outgoing alumni president. Mr. Hamilton will continue to lend his enthusiastic support to the occasion. The incoming Alumni Association president is Dr. Robert Blackwell, a 1962 CMA alumnus.

All units of the battalion performed in an outstanding manner on a sunny autumn day.

Passing in review, A Company is commanded by CPT Nick Blumer. Cadet Winston Small carries the guidon.

Alumni Association presidents prepare to troop the line. Mr. Robert Blackwell (CMA '62) will head the association for the next two years, taking over from Mr. William Hamilton (CMS '40).

Leading B Company by the reviewing stand are CPT Dray DuPree and Guidon William Scrudato.
