

A Company

Alpha Wins Honor Company Title

Being named Honor Company was Alpha's goal last year, and winning that distinction is a source of pride for all A Company cadets. But some things remain the same. "Evil A," as the company is affectionately known to some, still gets up to the sound of music. LTC Cook provides "Airbourne Airs" for everyone's listening pleasure. The goals of Alpha continue to be spotless barracks, high study hall ratings, excellent grades, winning military competitions, and a lot of participation in athletics. "LTC Cook keeps us going in the right direction," says Company Commander Nick Blumer. Athletic participation continues to be high this year. All the officers have played varsity sports and nearly all the cadets have, also.

"There is nothing we want more than to win Honor Company again this year," observes First Sergeant Justin E. Miller. "We'll get there the same way we did last year--drill and more drill, frequent inspections, and attention to detail." Alpha wants to be the best drilled, the best disciplined, and the best educated.

Staff: WE Small, guidon, 1SG JE Miller, 2LT CE Hartley, CO CPT NA Blumer, LTC Paul Cook, tactical officer, 1LT TA Friese, 2LT JC Reeves

A Company tac officer, LTC Paul Cook, has a friendly conversation with 2nd Platoon Leader Jon Reeves and Company Commander Nick Blumer.

A Company cadets down on the front porch: Hudson, Killen, Lanham, Ledford, Calhoun Row 2: JE Miller, Barr, Webb, D Thompson, H Lott Row 3: Welch, Small, Wall, McKinney, Callaghan, Blumer, Buchanan