Rafael Boschetti gives an all-out effort in the 4 x 100 relay. The Spartan Relay Team was fun to watch this season.

Travis Friese, team captain, clears 11 feet. He took second place in the conference pole vault and was Co-MVP.

Anthony Williams gives another outstanding performance in the long jump. He was the MIP in 2000.

A spirited competitor in the two-mile run, junior Jonathan Kaylor will be back to help the Spartans next season.

The 2000 CMA Track and Field Team learned discipline, self-sacrifice, and commitment to team goals; moreover, they improved individual performances and had fun. "I am very proud of these 37 young men who pledged their time and efforts. Thirty percent were 7th and 8th graders who always competed against older and more experienced boys," said Coach Austin. CMA fielded an excellent 4 x 100 relay team consisting of Boschetti, Henderson, Williams, and Hoover. Anthony Williams in the 100/long jump, Charles Hartley in the 200/high jump, and Justin Henderson in the 100/200 meter dashes--all performed in an outstanding manner. State qualifiers were Alonzo Bethea in the shot put and team captain Travis Friese in the pole vault. Bethea and Friese finished first and second in the conference in their events, respectively. Winning awards this season were Alonzo Bethea and Travis Friese, Most Valuable; John Stamm, Coach's Award; and Anthony Williams, Most Improved. The Spartans had a successful year of growth and seasoning. In 2001 they will return many young men with the additional experience and maturity to continue the CMA tradition of excellence in track and field.

A leading performer for the Spartans this season, Nathaniel Harley shows excellent form in clearing the hurdles.

Senior Randy Ellis, Spartan co-captain, executes a successful high jump.

Alonzo Bethea qualified for the state finals and finished first in the conference in the shot put.

Darshan Laborde, Jason Gethers, Justin Henderson, and Anthony Williams star in an all-CMA finish.

A consistent high jumper for the Spartans this year, senior Charles Hartley clears the bar to win his event.
