

Community Visitor's Day: On Friday, November 3, CMA invited numerous city and county officials, as well as local political candidates, to a reception and a parade. Cadet LTC Rafael Boschetti leads the Battalion Staff and the CMA Band by the reviewing stand.

Following the reception in the Risher Administration Building, many of the visitors elected to watch the parade from the porch.

Martin Luther King Day: This year our speaker on this special occasion was Elder Thomas C. Bell, pastor of St. Mark Church of God in Christ in Camden. Elder Bell is dedicated to breaking down denominational, racial, and economic walls.

Black History Month: Leading off the month was Command Sergeant Major Russell Anderson, senior military instructor at Batesburg-Leesville High School. He urged cadets to place greater value on the development of the mind.

Skiing: On January 26 a group of CMA cadets traveled to Winterplace, Virginia. Having fun in the snow are Clemens, Cabbage, Stanley, Lilla, Barr, and Michaud.

New Barracks: From a spot on the ground to an impressively large structure gradually taking shape, the new barracks through "cellular growth" will eventually become a comfortable building of 12,000 square feet.
