

C Company

Brains and Brass

Charlie Company continues to pursue the Honor Company designation, and they are among the leaders in drill competitions. Moreover, they have some of the best athletes in the battalion. But their main source of pride is their outstanding academic performance. "We take grades very seriously in C Company," said CPT David White, company commander. "Study hall rules are strictly enforced." Another trademark of Charlie is clean barracks and company areas. "We emphasize cleanliness," observed 2LT Justin Reid, "including rooms, halls, stairways, and fall-out areas. We police them carefully." Another strength of the company is its chain of command. Charlie cadets consider CSM Terrell "the best tac officer at CMA." First Sergeant Lucas Scholl credits the chain of command with the spirit of togetherness in the company: "Every officer does his job, and we're always accessible to the cadets. We all support one another."

Staff: Guidon Matthew Amendola Row 2: 2LT David White, 2LT Stovall Walker Row 3: CO CPT Rhett Parkman, 1SG Lucas Scholl, 1LT Ali Alrumaih Row 4: CSM Othell Terrell, tactical officer

SGT Chris Edwards and CSM Othell Terrell, tactical officer, discuss company matters by the site of the new CMA barracks.

C Company cadets clown in the courtyard: Parker, Baughman, Seigler, Francis, Peyton, Moore, Conant, and Murphy.