

Erik Randolph Barr

There are places and times with you that are forever imprinted on my heart, your smile, your laugh, your tears. Throughout the years the pride you have brought to me is immeasurable. Your future is wide open with unlimited possibilities, for you possess the greatest qualities a man can have. The heart sees clearly what the mind cannot comprehend.

I speak with one voice, but for two. The other is always watching over you with great joy.

Mom

