

Seniors Joshua Blankenship and Karl Kakadelis discuss the 2002 yearbook supplement as Mr. Kakadelis confers with LTC Schrader about Karl's class schedule.

Have We Done This Before?

Of course, we have, but there are always differences. We opened with 300 cadets this year and many new faces. The senior class numbers 76, and at 41 the eighth grade is more than double last year's count. For our comfort and enjoyment, the campus and facilities are in excellent condition, the academic programs are strong, and rumor has it that we have some super athletes in the Corps. A great year is in the making.

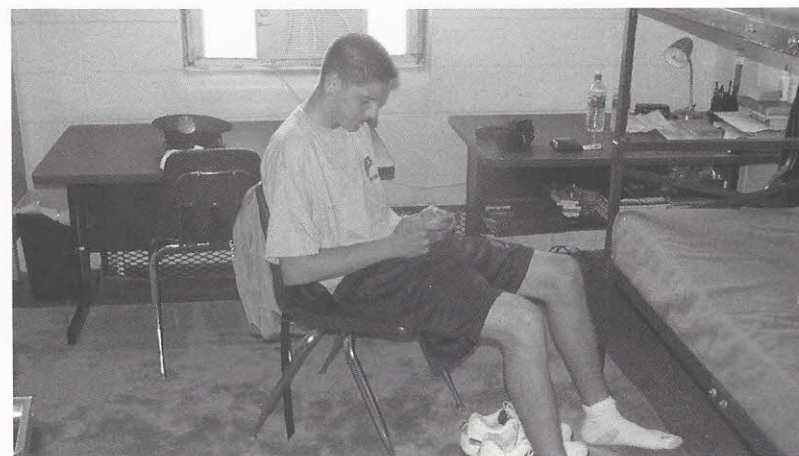

Nurse Debbie Anderson reviews senior Todd Pressley's medical records and counsels him regarding the coming year. CMA closely monitors cadet health needs.

Sergeant Hewitt expertly fits seventh grader Philip Hippeau with a brand new beret.

Junior Trey Martin joyously returns to CMA after a year's foray into the public school scene.

Junior Brandon Haley settles into his quarters in C Company.