

A Company

The Path to Honor

The main goal of Alpha Company is to regain the Honor Company title. "We want each individual in the company to become part of the solution, not part of the problem," said CPT Joshua Blankenship, company commander. "By doing that, the whole company gets better." First Sergeant Jones, new tactical officer, believes that improvement is an ongoing process: "We improve on things a little at a time and keep getting better." In Alpha everybody helps one another. The older cadets help the younger cadets, and everyone tries to learn from mistakes. Other Alpha goals continue to be excellent grades, high study hall ratings, keeping the barracks clean, winning military competitions, and participation in athletics. By improving in all areas of the Camden Military Academy program, A Company hopes to regain the Honor Company title.

Staff: Guidon Elbert Murphy Row 2: 2LT William Hardy, 1SG Andrew Hemphill, 2LT Charles Hayes Row 3: 1LT Brandon Streett, Executive Officer, LTC Paul Cook, Tactical Officer, CPT Joshua Blankenship, Company Commander.

CPT Joshua Blankenship and Guidon Mathew Marquard confer with 1SG John Jones, new A Company Tactical Officer.

The men of Alpha: AW Smith, Wooditch, Smart, Sesler, Hayes, R Lewis, Ott, Njuguna, C Jones, Huang, Guy Row 2: E. Land, Micklon, Murphy, Turner, B Miller, Latham, Streett, Marquard, Anderson, Bell