People of Character

Camden Military Academy is blessed with a faculty and staff who are dedicated to their work, who truly care about the young men they serve. The Academy seems to attract men and women of character who are constantly aware of their positions as role models for the cadets they strive to prepare for life. Moreover, they do not shrink from these obligations; rather, they value them and take pride in their endeavors to build a better world for future generations.

Admissions Director Casey Robinson and his assistant Ed Black are the principal reasons for CMA's continued full enrollment. They are responsible for letting the public know the availability and benefits of the Academy. "We have begun directing our efforts into new territories: Lexington, Kentucky, Nashville, Tennessee, and Wilmington, North Carolina, for example," Mr. Robinson remarked. "We are also attending numerous school fairs in the Southeast, and plans for a summer camp are well under way."
