

B Company

Big, Bad Bravo

In the third year of use Scarborough Barracks is still kept Spartan clean and looking like new. The high standards of CSM Irtenkauf, tactical officer, and CPT Rocky Pasut, company commander keep Bravo Company living quarters in top condition, and the standards extend to all other areas as well. "Of course we want to win Honor Company," said CPT Pasut, "but as long as our boys participate, try hard, and stay certified, that satisfies me. Honors will come if we stay focused." Several positive trends stand out in Bravo this year. Much more respect is given. The NCOs listen well and carry out orders promptly. "This year has been much better than the past few," CPT Pasut continued. The chain of command is performing well. Bravo is destined to have a great year."
