Athletic Director Will Rice

A 1989 alumnus of Camden Military Academy, new Athletic Director Will Rice received his B. A. degree from the University of North Carolina. He returned to CMA in the summer of 1994 and has risen steadily in his profession. At the beginning of this school term, Lieutenant Colonel Rice was named Athletic Director and Head Football Coach. A social studies teacher in the classroom, on the athletic fields he coached defensive backs on the varsity football team for seven years, served as defensive coordinator for two years, and was head coach of the Junior High Football Team for four years. In his first season as head varsity football coach, he guided the Spartans to a winning season and has seen a similar measure of success in all other CMA sports. "We have a thriving program, and I want to continue the tradition, keep what Coach Boland started and build upon it," Coach Rice commented. He believes also that he has a highly qualified staff to help him accomplish his goals: "All of our coaches do an outstanding job. We have the best coaches around, on and off the field." LTC Rice envisions a bright future for CMA athletics.
