

A Company

Working Together

"The boys have become a family, taking care of each other and getting things done," reports Company Commander CPT Michael Wooditch. Alpha Company has a tradition of working hard and getting better. CSM Brooks, tactical officer, believes that real improvement is a gradual process: "We improve things a little at the time and keep getting better." In Alpha everybody helps one another. The older cadets help the younger ones, and everyone tries to learn from mistakes. Other company goals continue to be excellent grades, high study hall ratings, keeping the barracks clean, winning military competitions, and participating in athletics. By working hard to get better in all areas, A Company hopes to keep the Honor Company title.

Staff: Guidon CM Zemla Row 2: SFC JA Land, SFC MA Moawad, SFC RL Lockett Row 3: 2LT NT Allen, ML Wooditch, company commander, 1LT LW Rostmeyer, executive officer, 2LT KB Owens

CSM Brooks and Company Commander Michael Wooditch inspect the company before they march up to lunch on a Wednesday afternoon.

Left Wing: Zemla, Sigmon, C Smith, Blueford, E Land, Makres, Andrews Center: Shock M Land, Burley, K Owens, Calcasacco, Banks, Nabors, Lockett, Zuluaga, Andreo Moawad, Jaco, Idarraga, J Land Right Wing: Jurow, Ferguson, Russell, Wooditch