Athletic Director Will Rice

"High cadet participation in athletics is one of our main goals," said Coach Rice, "and don't think it has ever been higher than it is now. Also, our young men play hard every time they take to the field, and our opponents know that. We have a proud tradition of sports success here at the Academy. Our young men are very much aware of that, and they always want to be winners. Win or lose, we want to teach the lessons of life that sports teach very well: how to work together to achieve a common goal, how to persevere and overcome adversity, and how to deal with losing as well as winning. I can't remember when we have had a really bad year in athletics. Our football team had a winning season, and all our other teams seem to be competitive. We want our young men to enjoy playing for Camden Military Academy, and I believe that they do."
