

J. C. Lucas

Dear Jay,

We're at a loss to come up with anything unique to express just how proud Dad and I are of your accomplishments. You've exceeded our expectations! You blew by all of the obstacles placed in your way and have achieved both personal and academic success. You have just ended one phase of your life and are embarking on the next. As you face the joys and challenges of adult life, just keep your focus and you'll be successful in any endeavor that you may undertake. Love ya - mean it!

Mom and Dad

