

Junior Varsity Basketball

This year's J.V. Spartans were long on effort and desire but came up short on execution. The team's 2-7 season was the result of too many turnovers and an inability to hit open shots. Backcourt players on this year's team were Carlos Diaz, Craig Musgrove, Chris Dougherty, Josiah Smith, Seun Sabanjo and Justin Tisdale. In the front court were Jared Bell, Jonathan Bell, Jack Davis, Alex Ochoa and Malcom Singleton. Elijah Kitts proved to be an extremely versatile player, at one time or another playing all five positions on the court. The team did show improvement during the season and actually played their best game against Mount Zion Christian's Varsity reserves, losing by only two points in the last game of the season. It is hoped that the players will build on their experiences this year and continue to improve as they come back next year to play junior varsity or move up to varsity.

Below: S. Sabanjo drives the ball to the net.

Above: Elijah Kitts jumps for the ball at the start of the game.

Above: A. Ochoa shoots from beyond the arc.

Above. Row 1: J. Tisdale, C. Diaz, S. Sabanjo, C. Musgrove, C. Dougherty, E. Kitts. Row 2: Coach Ron Horn, V. Smith, Ja. Bell, M. Singleton, R. Davis, A. Ochoa, Jo. Bell.

Above: S. Sabanjo fades away from the defense.

Above: Coach Ron Horn instructs the team on a time-out during a game.