

JV Basketball

The high turnover of players each year makes the focus of CMA's JV basketball program teaching the individual player how to work within a team concept. This year's team had an overall high basketball IQ. They showed steady improvement throughout the season, which culminated in a victory at home against Marlboro County and on the road against Hammond.

The players worked hard, listened carefully, and learned quickly, a fact greatly appreciated by the players, coaches, and fans.

Contributing as regular starters were Greg Dekanski, Collins Gundling, and Zach Loucks at guard with Tom Michalk and Luke Muhirwa at forward. Also contributing as part-time starters and key reserves were DeMontez Lassiter, Nick Lee, Justin Tisdale, and Nash Underwood at guard with Keith Garrison, Malcolm Mathis, Irfaan Mukul and Kristian Thomas at forward. The coaching staff looks forward to many of these players moving up to varsity next year.
