

Logan Lewis Brooks

Congratulations, Logan!

We are so proud of the young man you have become. All of us have traveled some bumpy roads with you; but your motivation, discipline and hard work have paid off with choices. You have been able to choose the college you'd like to attend and the career you'd like to study.

We know that your dream is to fly jets in the Navy. Only God knows what's in store for you after you leave Camden. Remember that life is not about what you do, whom you know or how much stuff you have. Life is about relationships. Make every day count. Encourage those around you; be generous to those less fortunate; be still and listen to God; take more risks (or, in your case, less); and invest in things that will live on after you have gone.

Remember that the present is a gift from God. Learn from the past, long for the future, but live in-the present.

We love you, Logan!
Dad, Mom, Austin, and Dylan
