

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Speech

1. Former cadet Ricardo Priester (CMA '94) was our keynote speaker on the MLK day.
2. Ricardo Priester and Headmaster Emeritus, Lanning Risher.
3. Headmaster Col Eric Boland poses with his former basketball player Ricardo Priester
4. Cadet Xavier Anderson of Hilton Head Island, SC reads "Lift Every Voice and Sing"

From the welcome by Brent Kendall, a poem, "I Too" by Cadet J' Den Robertson, the Cline Chapel was filled with the gleam and prestige of Dr. King. The highlight of today's program was really sparked once Mr. Ricardo Priester, CMA Class of '94, spoke about the life and legacy of Dr. King. Mr. Priester highlighted how Dr. King matriculated to Morehouse College at the tender age of 15. Then, he mentioned how Rosa Parks stood up by sitting down because she refused to give up her seat on the bus. Above all, Mr. Priester encouraged the Cadets that they should always believe in themselves and follow their dreams. At the end he told the Cadets that he was very grateful for how CMA and the teachers molded and shaped him into the individual that he is. After the speaker, the words of the National Black Anthem, "Lift Every Voice and Sing" were quoted by Cadet Xavier Anderson. As we reflect on this commemorative holiday, let us all remember to treat each other daily as we would want to be treated and have love and respect for all mankind.

Wednesday January 21st, 2014, the Cadets from CMA were enlightened by the wisdom from Alan Wilson, Attorney General of South Carolina. In his speech he was trying to educate the Cadets about how important it is to be aware of sending inappropriate pictures to cell phones or other social networks. He stated how it is a crime to send pictures of individuals who are minors and the consequence this can have on augmenting a person's time spent in jail. It was obvious that this topic sparked a lot of interesting questions from Cadets. Overall, the Attorney General talked about watching the things that are done in younger years that could possibly prevent them from getting jobs. Nowadays, there are many jobs that will check Facebook accounts and other social networks. He talked about the importance of not "sexting" he highlighted his successful military career. In this perspective, he told the Cadets that even though they may not do as well as he could have done in college, once he had his mind and heart set, he was very determined to pass the LSAT and have a career as a lawyer.

SC Attorney General

1. South Carolina Attorney General Alan Wilson
2. AG Wilson tweets about his trip to CMA
3. Cadet Michael Moses and AG Wilson
4. Cadet LTC John Puhl and AG Wilson
5. Cadet Douglas Dawson and AG Wilson

