

I've been playing baseball for two years here. This year I played JV and Varsity. We were 10-16 this season. This season was really great; we had a great team and great coaches. Other people saw us as a regular team, but I saw us as a family and that is what made us a great team this year. I am going to miss this group of guys. But I can't wait until next season.

Into success

"Our main goal with our JV team is to spark interest at a younger level for our young cadets that have interest in playing. This year, with so little numbers, we were able to give a lot of guys experience playing the game at the high school level. Also, a big goal was to pick up the first win in program history, which was accomplished and topped our highlights this year. The guys worked real hard and had a few chances early, and then they finally got the program's first win.

I was very pleased with the season overall because I thought the kids got better as the season went along and that they had a lot of fun. You always wish for wins, but we got alot of guys that had never played or didn't have alot of experience. That is a positive in so many ways."
